Public Warning on Fraudulent Websites and Third-Party Applications

Nova Global (the “Firm”) has occasionally become aware of fraudulent websites, third-party applications, and instant messaging groups (such as Telegram and WeChat) that claim to be operated by Nova Global or impersonate our company and employees. If you encounter any such situation, please contact us by email to verify whether the communication is officially from us.

These illegal activities use our company name and/or trademarks without authorization to deceive the public into joining chat groups or downloading third-party applications, which are then used to perpetrate fraud.

The purpose of this notice is to alert the public to the nature of these fraudulent schemes.

Important Statement

Nova Global has no association whatsoever with these fraudulent or illegal activities.

The Firm and its affiliated advisors manage private investment funds that are offered exclusively to internal members.

Our employees only conduct business within official WhatsApp internal groups.

Regular employees do not provide investment advice to the public and do not participate in any social media or messaging groups that offer such services.

Be Alert to Fraud

If anyone provides you with investment advice claiming to be from Nova Global via:

Websites

Other third-party applications

Email

It is very likely to be fraudulent. Please stay vigilant and verify the authenticity of the information directly with us.
